A new paradigm for laryngopharyngeal reflux
New York, NY. July 16-17, 1996.

Guest faculty, Annual Cherry Blossom Conference: Benign Disorders of Voice. Sponsored by the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topics:
Current concepts in laryngopharyngeal reflux disease: an overview
Challenging cases in voice surgery
Dissection/demonstration of medialization laryngoplasty
Washington, D.C. July 29-31, 1996.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
Reflux disease in otolaryngology
Washington, D.C. September 29, 1996.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
Surgical correction of bowing of the vocal folds
Washington, D.C. September 29, 1996.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
Management of vocal fold atypia and early vocal fold carcinoma
Washington, D.C. September 29, 1996.

Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topic:
Documentation of pediatric reflux: Standardization of a new technique and review of 300 children
Washington, D.C. September 30, 1996.

Pacific Voice Conference. Topics:
Choices and techniques of treatment of complex and non-adductor types of focal laryngeal dystonias
Options for treatment of adynamic, traumatic vocal fold injuries
Correction of dysphonia due to vocal fold paresis and bowing: Techniques and outcomes
San Francisco, California. October 18-19, 1996.

Visiting professor, Department of Otorhinolaryngology, University of Arkansas Medical Sciences. Topics:
Cadaver demonstration of medialization laryngoplasty and arytenoid adduction procedures
Fiberoptic laryngoscopy and voice disorders
Little Rock, Arkansas. October 25, 1996.

Guest speaker, Arkansas State Otolaryngology Society: John W. Smith Fall ENT Meeting. Topics:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux: A new paradigm

Diagnosis and treatment of voice disorders
Laryngoplasty
Heber Springs, Arkansas. October 26-27, 1996.

Presented at the annual meeting of the Southern Section of the Triological Society. Topic:
Management of vocal cord paralysis
Captiva Island, Florida. January 17, 1997.

Guest faculty, Multidisciplinary Evaluation of Voice and Swallowing Disorders, sponsored by the Department of Otolaryngology, University of Chicago. Topics:
Endoscopic management of vocal cord cancer
Common laryngeal voice disorders
Advances in surgical and non-surgical management
Reflux disease
Chicago, Illinois. April 26, 1997.

Course Director, organizing chairman, sponsor, and lecturer: Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR): State-of-the-art diagnosis and treatment. Sponsored by the Center for Voice Disorders of Wake Forest University and the Department of Otolaryngology, Bowman Gray School of Medicine. Topics:
LPR is different from GERD: A new paradigm
The prevalence and spectrum of reflux in laryngology
Treatment algorithms for LPR
Reflux, recurrent laryngeal mucosal atypia, leukoplakia, and carcinoma
Chicago, Illinois, July 27, 1997

Course Director, organizing chairman, sponsor, and lecturer: Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR): State-of-the-art diagnosis and treatment. Sponsored by the Center for Voice Disorders of Wake Forest University and the Department of Otolaryngology, Bowman Gray School of Medicine. Topics:
LPR is different from GERD: A new paradigm
The prevalence and spectrum of reflux in laryngology
Treatment algorithms for LPR
Reflux, recurrent laryngeal mucosal atypia, leukoplakia, and carcinoma
Washington, D.C. August 8, 1997.

Course Director, organizing chairman, sponsor, and lecturer: Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR): State-of-the-art diagnosis and treatment. Sponsored by the Center for Voice Disorders of Wake Forest University and the Department of Otolaryngology, Bowman Gray School of Medicine. Topics:
LPR is different from GERD: A new paradigm
The prevalence and spectrum of reflux in laryngology
Treatment algorithms for LPR
Reflux, recurrent laryngeal mucosal atypia, leukoplakia, and carcinoma
Houston, Texas. October 11, 1998.

Course Director, organizing chairman, sponsor, and lecturer: Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR): State-of-the-art diagnosis and treatment. Sponsored by the Center for Voice Disorders of Wake Forest University and the Department of Otolaryngology, Bowman Gray School of Medicine. Topics:
LPR is different from GERD: A new paradigm
The prevalence and spectrum of reflux in laryngology
Treatment algorithms for LPR

Reflux, recurrent laryngeal mucosal atypia, leukoplakia, and carcinoma
Orlando, Florida. December 4, 1997.

Faculty, The Spoleto Symposium: Medicine in the Vocal Arts, sponsored by the Department of Otolaryngology,
Medical University of South Carolina. Topics:

- Biomechanics of the singing voice
- Muscle tension dysphonia
- Neurological disorders affecting the larynx
- Laryngopharyngeal reflux and voice disorders
- To perform or not perform (case presentations)
- Laryngeal framework surgery
- Videostroboscopy

Charleston, South Carolina. May 24-26, 1997.

Visiting Faculty and Guest Speaker at The Second Scandinavian Conference on Laryngeal Surgery and Voice, sponsored by the Department of Logopedics and Otolaryngology, Karolinska Institute. Topics:

- Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR) in laryngology, and why it is still under-diagnosed and under-treated
- Management of laryngotracheal injuries associated with endotracheal intubation
- Management of the scarred vocal cord

Stockholm, Sweden. May 28-29, 1997.

Pacific Voice Conference. Topics:

- Clinical value of laryngeal electromyography
- Unilateral and bilateral medialization laryngoplasty for vocal fold paresis

San Francisco, California. September 5-6, 1997.

Presented at the Neurolaryngology Subcommittee's Presentation on Neurological Disorders of the Larynx. Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topic:

- Complex laryngeal dystonias

San Francisco, California. September 8, 1997.

Instructional courses, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery
Meeting. Topics:

- Endoscopic management of vocal fold atypia and early cancer
- Laryngopharyngeal reflux in otolaryngology.
- Surgical management of bowing of the vocal folds.

San Francisco, California. September 8-9, 1997.

Faculty, The Spoleto Symposium: Medicine in the Vocal Arts, sponsored by the Department of Otolaryngology,
Medical University of South Carolina, Topics:

- Biomechanics of the singing voice
- Muscle tension dysphonias
- Neurological disorders affecting the larynx
- Laryngopharyngeal reflux and voice disorders
- Advanced Laryngeal framework surgery
- Videostroboscopy

Charleston, South Carolina. May 22-25, 1998.

Visiting faculty, University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston for continuing education course: Laryngeal Problems: What's New? Topics:

- Bilateral medialization laryngoplasty
- Cancer of the larynx: Treatment, complications, rehabilitation
- Management of benign vocal cord lesions
- Lipoinjection
- Fred Shelton Lecturer
- Laryngopharyngeal reflux

Galveston, Texas. June 11-13, 1998.

7th International Symposium on Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery. Topic:

- Inadvertent vocal cord destabilization and severe hoarseness as a complication of cosmetic “laryngeal shave” procedures

Orlando, Florida. June 19, 1998.

Keynote Speaker and Visiting Lecturer. Maryland Otolaryngology Society. Topics:

- Laryngopharyngeal reflux
- Vocal cord dysfunction
- Bilateral medialization laryngoplasty

Baltimore, Maryland. July 6, 1998.

Keynote Speaker: Georgia Society of Otolaryngology Head and Neck Surgery. Topics:

- Laryngopharyngeal reflux
- Vocal cord paralysis
- Vocal cord dysfunction

Hilton Head Island, South Carolina. July 16-19, 1998.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:

- Laryngopharyngeal reflux in otolaryngology

San Antonio, Texas. September 14, 1998.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:

- Surgical management of bowing of the vocal folds

San Antonio, Texas. September 15, 1998.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:

- Endoscopic management of vocal-fold atypia and early cancer

San Antonio, Texas. September 16, 1998.

Panel presentation, AAO Committee on Speech, Voice and Swallowing, at the Annual Meeting of The American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topic:

- New medications and diagnostic probes in reflux laryngitis

San Antonio, Texas. September, 16, 1998.

Presented at the Annual Meeting of The American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery.

Topics:

Vocal fold paresis

Clinical implications of active human pepsin in airway secretions

San Antonio, Texas. September 14-16, 1998.

Visiting lecturer, Connecticut State Ear, Nose, and Throat Society. Topics:

Laryngopharyngeal reflux

Advances in laryngoplastic phonosurgery

A day in the office: Management of interesting and common problems

Cromwell, Connecticut. October 16, 1998.

Course director, organizing chairman, sponsor, and lecturer: Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR): State-of-the-art diagnosis and treatment. Sponsored by the Center for Voice Disorders of Wake Forest University. Topics:

LPR is different from GERD: A new paradigm

The prevalence and spectrum of reflux in laryngology

Treatment algorithms for LPR

Seattle, Washington. September 25, 1998.

Course director, organizing chairman, sponsor, and lecturer: Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR): State-of-the-art diagnosis and treatment. Sponsored by the Center for Voice Disorders of Wake Forest University. Topics:

LPR is different from GERD: A new paradigm

The prevalence and spectrum of reflux in laryngology

Treatment algorithms for LPR

New Orleans, Louisiana. October 23, 1998.

The Pacific Voice Conference. Topics:

Laryngopharyngeal reflux

Arytenoidectomy or cordotomy: Which and when?

Vocal nodules

Laryngoplasty for vocal fold paralysis

Endoscopic partial PCA myectomy for recalcitrant abductor-type spasmodic dysphonia

San Francisco, California. November 5-8, 1998.

Visiting lecturer, Beth Israel Medical Center. Topic:

Laryngopharyngeal manifestations of gastroesophageal reflux (LPR)

New York, New York. February 11, 1999.

Chevalier Jackson Lecturer (Keynote). 79th Annual Meeting of the American Broncho-Esophagological Association. Topic:

Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR): A new paradigm of airway disease

Palm Desert, California. April 26, 1999.

Faculty, The Spoleto Symposium: Medicine in the Vocal Arts, sponsored by the Department of Otolaryngology, Medical University of South Carolina. Topics:

Anatomy and physiology of the vocal tract

Biomechanics of the singing voice

Muscle tension dysphonias

Laryngopharyngeal reflux and its influence on adult voice disorders

Advanced laryngeal framework surgery: Treatment of laryngeal paresis/paralysis
Videostroboscopy
Charleston, South Carolina. May 28-31, 1999.

Visiting professor, Emory University School of Medicine. Topic:
Silent reflux
Atlanta, Georgia. June 17, 1999.

Guest faculty, The Second Congress on Contemporary Topics in Laryngology and the XIIth Annual Pacific Voice Conference. Topics:
Determinants of voice outcomes in the management of laryngeal cancer
Approach to the management of laryngeal cancer
Laryngeal electromyography: Its role in the management of vocal fold paresis and paralysis
Surgical approach to the management of vocal fold paresis and paralysis
Voice rehabilitation following hemilaryngectomy
Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR): A new paradigm of airway disease
Amsterdam, The Netherlands. September 1-4, 1999.

Guest speaker, Annual meeting of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topics:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux in otolaryngology
Surgical management of bowing of the vocal folds
Clinical laryngeal electromyography: Indications, techniques and interpretation
Panel on laryngeal electromyography: Applications and pitfalls
New Orleans, Louisiana. September 26-29, 1999.

Guest speaker, The 1st International Symposium on Human Pepsin, sponsored by the University of York.
Topics:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR)
Treatment of LPR
York (England), United Kingdom. October 1-2, 1999.

Guest speaker, Midlands Otolaryngology Group Meeting, Stratford-Upon-Avon. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux: A new paradigm of airway disease
England, United Kingdom. October 4, 1999.

Visiting professor, George Washington University School of Medicine, Otolaryngology Grand Rounds. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR)
Washington, D.C. December 15, 1999.

Visiting professor, University of Illinois-Chicago. Topic:
Advances in laryngoplastic phonosurgery
Vocal fold paresis
Chicago, Illinois. March 6, 2000.

Keynote lecturer, Chicago Otological and Laryngological Society Meeting; Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux: A new paradigm of airway disease
Chicago, Illinois. March 6, 2000.

Visiting professor, Ohio State University. Topics:
Approach to the patient with a voice disorder
Vocal fold paralysis and paresis
Columbus, Ohio. April 17, 2000.

Keynote address and Baker lecturer, Columbus Otolaryngological Society Meeting. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux: A new paradigm of airway disease
Columbus, Ohio. April 17, 2000.

Faculty, The Spoleto Symposium: Medicine in the vocal arts, sponsored by the Department of Otolaryngology of the Medical University of South Carolina. Topics:
Biomechanics of the singing voice
Compensatory laryngeal behaviors: Underlying etiologies
Laryngopharyngeal reflux and its influence on voice disorders
Neurological disorders affecting the larynx
To perform or not to perform
Advanced laryngoplastic phonosurgery
Charleston, South Carolina. May 26-29, 2000.

Keynote speaker, Bay Area Resident Research (BARRS) Day. Topic:
Laryngology 2000: This will be remembered as the new Stone Age
San Francisco, California. June 2, 2000.

Guest faculty. Biennial meeting of the National Center for Voice and Speech: Phonosurgery Symposium.
Topics:
Localized Reinke's edema as a manifestation of vocal fold paresis
Revision laryngoplasty
Surgical options for abductor-type spasmodic dysphonia management
Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR is not GERD)
Management of the adynamic vocal fold
Endoscopic arytenoid repositioning for arytenoid fixation
Laryngeal electromyography (workshop)
Madison, Wisconsin. July 14-15, 2000

Presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery.
Topics:
Proton pump inhibitor resistance in the treatment of reflux pH monitoring
The importance of the pharyngeal probe in reflux (pH) testing
Washington, D.C. September 22-27, 2000.

Panel: AAO Committee on Speech, Voice and Swallowing, at the Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery.
Management of common voice problems: State of the art care
Washington, D.C. September 27, 2000.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
Surgical management of bowing of the vocal folds
Washington, D.C. September 25, 2000.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:

Laryngopharyngeal reflux in otolaryngology
Washington, D.C. September 26, 2000.

Keynote Speaker, 2nd International Symposium on Human Pepsin. Topic:

What's new in laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR)
Scotland, United Kingdom. September 29, 2000.

Guest speaker, 6th International Symposium of Phonosurgeons. Topics:

The immobile vocal fold: Which options for the treatment?
Laryngoplastic procedures, techniques and complications
Abano Terme, Venice. October 20, 2000.

XIIIth Annual Pacific Voice Conference. Topics:

Vocal fold paresis
Why not to use Teflon?
Surgical treatment of abductor spasmodic dysphonia
Management of vocal fold bowing
San Francisco, California. November 9-11, 2000.

Workshop Presented at the XIIIth Pacific Voice Conference. Topic:

Diagnosis and management of glottal closure problems
San Francisco, California. November 10, 2000.

Workshop Presented at the XIIIth Pacific Voice Conference. Topic:

Laryngopharyngeal reflux: A new paradigm of airway disease
San Francisco, California. November 11, 2000.

Visiting professor, Northeast Medical Center. Topic:

Laryngopharyngeal reflux: A new paradigm of airway disease
Concord, North Carolina. November 20, 2000.

Presented at the annual meeting of the Southern Section of the Triological Society. Topics:

Reducing laryngeal soft tissue complication after surgery for recurrent respiratory papillomas by treating extra-esophageal reflux
Laryngopharyngeal reflux symptoms improve before physical findings
Unilateral or localized Reinke's edema (pseudocyst) as a sign of vocal fold paresis
Panel: Controversies in laryngology
Marco Island, Florida. January 13, 2001.

Course director, Contemporary Evaluation and Management of Cervical Dysphagia and Diseases of the Pharynx, Mount Sinai School of Medicine. Topic:

Epidemiology of pharyngoesophageal reflux disease
Pharyngoesophageal reflux
Botox injection
Medialization laryngoplasty
Workshop: Interpretation of fiberoptic laryngoscopy
New York, New York. March 30-31, 2001

Presented at the annual meeting of the American Laryngological Association. Topic:
Cell biology of laryngeal epithelial defenses in health and disease: Preliminary studies
Palm Desert, California. May 12, 2001.

Presented at the annual meeting of the American Broncho-Esophagological Association. Topic:
Effects of gum-chewing on pharyngeal and esophageal pH
Palm Desert, California. May 15, 2001.

Faculty, The Spleto Symposium: Medicine in the vocal arts, sponsored by the Department of Otolaryngology of the Medical University of South Carolina. Topics:
Biomechanics of the singing voice
Laryngopharyngeal reflux and its influence on adult voice disorders
Compensatory laryngeal behaviors—underlying etiologies
Neurological disorders affecting the larynx
To perform or not to perform
Advanced laryngeal framework surgery: Treatment of laryngeal paresis/paralysis
Charleston, South Carolina. May 25-28, 2001.

Keynote speaker, The Triologic Conference—Brazilian Society of Laryngology and Voice. Topics:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux and laryngeal alterations
Current status of laryngeal cancer endoscopic treatment
Laryngeal paralysis in adults
Update on clinical and lab vocal assessment
Update on phonosurgery
Goiânia, Brazil. August 24-25, 2001.

Presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topic:
Utility of electroglottography with unloading in the diagnosis of vocal fold paresis
Denver, Colorado. September 9-13, 2001.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux in otolaryngology
Denver, Colorado. September 9, 2001.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
Surgical management of bowing of the vocal folds
Denver, Colorado. September 11, 2001.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
In-office transnasal esophagoscopy
Denver, CO. September 12, 2001.

Course director, Diagnosis and Treatment of Laryngopharyngeal Reflux and Hands-on State-of-the-Art Reflux Testing, Wake Forest University School of Medicine. Topics:
LPR is different than GERD

Hands-on reflux testing
Winston-Salem, North Carolina. November 10, 2001.

Course director, Diagnosis and Treatment of Laryngopharyngeal Reflux and Hands-on State-of-the-Art Reflux Testing, Wake Forest University School of Medicine. Topics:

LPR is different than GERD
Hands-on reflux testing
Winston-Salem, NC. April 13, 2002.

Guest speaker, Multidisciplinary Voice, Swallow & Airway Conference 2002. Topics:

Evaluating the impact of reflux on the larynx and esophagus
Reflux impact on larynx and voice
Reflux impact in VCD
Panel: Pneumonia risk
Workshop: Transnasal esophagoscopy
Jupiter Beach, Florida. April 20-21, 2002.

Presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Laryngological Association. Topic:

Cell biology of laryngeal epithelial defenses in health and disease (Part II)
Boca Raton, Florida. May 11, 2002.

Presented at the Annual Meeting of the Triological Society. Topic:

Symptoms, esophagoscopy findings, and reflux patterns in pH-documented laryngopharyngeal reflux
Boca Raton, Florida. May 12, 2002.

Presented at the Annual Meeting of the Triological Society. Topic:

Gastric reflux, a cause of OME in children
Boca Raton, Florida. May 13, 2002.

Presented at the Annual Meeting of the Voice Foundation. Topics:

Occult vocal fold paresis and things that go bump on the vocal fold
Endoscopic partial PCA myectomy as a treatment abductor spasmodic dysphonia
Contemporary laryngology: Things are not what they seem
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. June 8-9, 2002.

The J. Floyd Kyser Annual Lecturer and Visiting Professor: Department of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery, University of Arkansas (Alumni Day). Topics:

Kyser Annual Lecture: Laryngopharyngeal reflux: A new paradigm of airway disease
Laryngology in a nutshell
Transnasal esophagoscopy
Common voice disorders
Little Rock, Arkansas. June 15, 2002.

Presented at the 12th World Congress for Bronchoesophagology. Topic:

Laryngopharyngeal reflux and transnasal esophagoscopy
Boston, Massachusetts. June 18, 2002.

Keynote Speaker and visiting professor, Department of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery, University of Albany. Topics:

Transnasal esophagoscopy
A day in the office (case presentations)
Albany, New York. June 19, 2002.

Keynote Speaker, Capital Area Otolaryngology Association. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux: A new paradigm of airway disease
Albany, New York. June 19, 2002.

Guest speaker, Department of Otolaryngology, Boston University School of Medicine (Alumni Day). Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux: A new paradigm of airway disease
Boston, Massachusetts. June 21, 2002.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux in otolaryngology
San Diego, California. September 22, 2002.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
In-office transnasal esophagoscopy
San Diego, California. September 23, 2002.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
Surgical management of bowing of the vocal folds
San Diego, California. September 24, 2002.

Course director, Diagnosis and Treatment of Laryngopharyngeal Reflux and Hands-on State-of-the-Art Reflux Testing, Scripps Center for Voice and Swallowing. Topics:
LPR is different than GERD
Hands-on reflux testing
La Jolla, California. September 26, 2002.

Keynote Speaker and visiting faculty. Contemporary Evaluation and Management of Dysphagia, Reflux, and Diseases of the Pharynx and Esophagus. Sponsored by The American Bronchoesophagological Association and Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. Topics:
Keynote address: Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR) is different than GERD
Bilateral medialization laryngoplasty
Panel: Treatment of LPR
Hands-on reflux testing
New York, New York. November 8-9, 2002.

Reflux in the Upper Aero-Digestive Tract: A Multi-Disciplinary Approach, in conjunction with the 4th International Symposium on Human Pepsin. Sponsored by the University of Nottingham (UK) and the British Voice Association Institute on Laryngology. Topics:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR)
Panel: Management of reflux
LPR: A new paradigm of airway disease
Voice disorders are multifactorial

Transnasal fiberoptic laryngoscopy (including stroboscopy)
Unsedated, in-office, laser treatment of laryngeal lesions with the pulsed dye laser
Vocal fold paresis
Surgical management of vocal fold bowing
Panel: Management of the hypomobile vocal fold

Nottingham, England (UK). March 31-April 2, 2003.

Visiting professor, Department of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery, University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee. Topics:

The diagnosis and treatment of glottal closure problems
Approach to the patient with a voice disorder

Milwaukee, Wisconsin. February 13, 2004.

Keynote Speaker: Milwaukee Otolaryngology Association. Topic:

Laryngopharyngeal reflux

Milwaukee, Wisconsin. February 13, 2004.

Co-director, Reflux and Laryngology, in association with the 5th International Symposium on Human Pepsin. Sponsored by the American Broncho-Esophageal Association and the Center for Voice and Swallowing Disorders of Wake Forest University. Topics:

LPR: A new paradigm of airway disease
LPR is different than GERD
Panel: Pediatric reflux disorders
Who gets voice disorders and why
Approach to the patient with a voice disorder
Panel: Closing the glottal gap
How to use the reflux finding score
Keynote: Life-threatening reflux

Winston-Salem, North Carolina. May 20-22, 2004.

Keynote Address: The 2004 Voice Foundation Annual Meeting. Topic:

Reflux in otolaryngology: The state of the art

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. June 6, 2004.

The 2004 Voice Foundation Annual Meeting. Topic:

Panel: Closing the glottal gap

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. June 6, 2004.

Co-director, Contemporary Evaluation and Management of Reflux and Swallowing Disorders, sponsored by the American Broncho-Esophageal Association and Columbia University College of Physicians & Surgeons.

Topics:

Keynote: LPR is not GERD
New diagnostics and pepsin detection in LPR

New York, NY. November 6, 2004.

6th Annual Multidisciplinary Voice, Swallowing, and Airway Conference 2005, sponsored by the Florida Medical Association. Topics:

Care of the professional voice
Transgender voice

Laryngopharyngeal reflux
Differential diagnosis of chronic cough
Transnasal esophagoscopy
Jupiter Beach, Florida. March 17-20, 2005.

Co-director, The 6th International Symposium on Human Pepsin. Topics:

LPR: A new paradigm of airway disease
LPR is different than GERD
Panel: Chronic cough and LPR
Who gets voice disorders and why
Approach to the patient with a voice disorder
Keynote: Life-threatening reflux

York, United Kingdom. April 6-8, 2005.

Annual Meeting of the American Laryngological Association (combined Otolaryngology Spring meetings).

Topic:

Stress protein response of laryngeal epithelium to laryngopharyngeal reflux

Boca Raton, Florida. May 15, 2005.

Chicago Be-All Convention 2005. Topic:

Voice therapy and surgery for the male-to-female transsexual

Chicago, Illinois. June 10, 2005.

Keynote Speaker and Guest of Honor. XXIX Congress of the Nordic Association of Otolaryngology. Topics:

The return of the pickled onion: Reflux disorders in otorhinolaryngology.

Unsedated, in-office laser surgery

LPR is different than GERD

Voice therapy and surgery for the M-to-F transsexual

Reykjavik, Iceland. June 15-18, 2005.

Annual Meeting of the American Laryngological Association (Combined Otolaryngology Spring meetings).

Topics:

Cost savings of unsedated office-based laryngeal laser surgery

Normative values for laryngopharyngeal reflux

Common manifestations of neuropathic pain (“sick-nerve syndromes”) in laryngology

Chicago, Illinois. May 19, 2006.

Special Workshop presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topic:

Vocal decompensation: An unpopular model of laryngology

Toronto, Ontario. September 17, 2006.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:

Laryngopharyngeal reflux

Toronto, Ontario. September 18, 2006.

Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topic:
Unsedated, office-based laryngeal laser surgery: Review of 443 cases using three wavelengths
Toronto, Ontario. September 19, 2006.

Annual Southern Comfort Conference. Topics:
Voice therapy and surgery for the M-to-F transsexual
The arrogance of patriarchy
Atlanta, Georgia. September 24, 2006.

Featured guest speaker, New England Otolaryngology Society Annual Meeting. Topics
Laryngopharyngeal reflux: Acid, pepsin, and all that jazz
Vocal decompensation: An unpopular model of laryngology
Office-based laryngeal surgery and transnasal esophagoscopy
Panel on common laryngeal diseases
Boston, Massachusetts. October 13, 2006.

Co-director and lecturer, Contemporary Evaluation and Management of Reflux and Swallowing Disorders, sponsored by the American Broncho-Esophagological Association and the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. Topics:
Clinical implications of pepsin detection
Panel: Therapeutics
New York New York. November 4, 2006.

CME course: Reflux Disease and Transnasal Esophagoscopy, sponsored by the Department of Gastroenterology, Long Island Jewish Hospital. Topics:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux disease
Transnasal esophagoscopy and office-based surgery
Long Island, New York. November 10, 2006.

Keynote lecturer, Second Annual Kay/Pentax Lecture on Airway Science, presented at the annual meeting of the American Speech and Language Association. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux
Miami Florida. November 18, 2006.

Visiting Professor, SUNY/Long Island Medical College. Topics:
The basic science of Laryngopharyngeal Reflux (LPR)
Clinical LPR
Vocal decompensation
Brooklyn, New York. November 30, 2006.

Keynote lecturer, American College of Surgeons, annual meeting of the Long Island Surgical Association.
Topic:
Shopping, self-maintenance, surgery, and sex: The view from both sides of the gender divide
Uniondale (LI), New York. December 6, 2006.

Visiting lecturer (Grand Rounds), Department of Otolaryngology, New York University Medical Center. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux and characterization of the internal environment
New York, New York. March 5, 2007.

Visiting lecturer, Department of Speech-Language Pathology, New York University. Topic:
Vocal decompensation: An unpopular model of laryngology
New York, New York. March 23, 2007.

Visiting lecturer (Grand Rounds), Department of Otolaryngology, New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, New York Medical College. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux
New York, New York. April 4, 2007.

Visiting lecturer (Grand Rounds), Department of Otolaryngology, Lenox Hill Hospital. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux for the busy clinician
New York, New York. April 11, 2007.

Moderator, panel: Management of Spasmodic Dysphonia. Annual meeting of the National Spasmodic Dysphonia Association. Topic:
Surgical management of spasmodic dysphonia
White Plains, New York. May 5, 2007.

Visiting lecturer (Grand Rounds), Department of Otolaryngology, Acibadem Bakirkoy Hastanesi Cerrahpasa Tip Fakulttesi. Topics:
Update on laryngopharyngeal reflux with an emphasis on the scientific aspects
Diagnosis and management of vocal fold paresis
Unsedated office-based laryngeal laser surgery
Istanbul, Turkey. May 23, 2007.

First Annual Combined Meeting of the European Laryngology Society and American Broncho-Esophagological Association. Topic:
Peptic laryngitis: The cell biology of laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR)
Antalya, Turkey. May 25, 2007.

Keynote Speaker: Twenty-Ninth Annual Turkish National Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Congress. Topics:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux and the poorly understood internal environment
Diagnosis and management of vocal fold bowing and paresis
Unsedated office-based laryngeal laser surgery: The future of otolaryngology
Antalya, Turkey. May 28, 2007.

Annual Meeting of the Voice Foundation moderator and presenter. Topic:
Panel on vocal fold paresis
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. June 2, 2007.

New Technology in Laryngology (CME program), New York Eye and Ear Infirmary. Topics:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR): The state of the art (acid, pepsin, and all that jazz)
Diagnosis of LPR
Office-based laryngeal laser surgery
New York, New York. June 9, 2007.

Grand Rounds, Department of Otolaryngology. Mount Sinai School of Medicine. Topic:
Acid, pepsin, and the cell biology of laryngopharyngeal reflux
New York, New York. July 25, 2007.

Instructional course, presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux
Washington, D.C. September 16, 2007.

Presented at the Annual American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery Meeting. Topics:
Office-based laryngeal surgery
Unsedated, office-based laryngeal laser surgery
Washington, D.C. September 17, 2007.

Presentation: New York Voice Study Group. Topic:
All of your patients have paresis and everyone has reflux
New York, New York. September 25, 2007.

Visiting lecturer (Grand Rounds), Department of Otolaryngology, New York Eye and Ear Infirmary. Topic:
Why laryngopharyngeal reflux is enigmatic
New York, New York. October 4, 2007.

Visiting lecturer (Grand Rounds), Department of Otolaryngology, Montefiore Medical Center. Topic:
Reflux causes everything
Bronx, New York. October 8, 2007.

Keynote Speaker, Nassau Surgical Society. Topic:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux
Long Island, New York. December 5, 2007.

Visiting lecturer, Working Group on Gender, Columbia University School of Medicine. Topics:
Voice therapy and surgery for the male-to-female transsexual
How to perform a safe tracheal shave
Second shoe syndrome: Social identity disorder in post-op trans-women
New York, New York. January 11, 2008.

Visiting lecturer, Department of Gastroenterology, Weill Cornell Medical College. Topic:
From silence to omnipresence: Perspective on the evolution of laryngopharyngeal reflux
New York, New York. January 22, 2008.

Faculty and Keynote Speaker, 3rd Annual Advanced Practices in Voice and Dysphagia, sponsored by the National Foundation of Swallowing Disorders. Topics:
Keynote: All I know about reflux disease
Panel: Professional voice care
Office-based laryngeal surgery
Who gets voice disorders and why?
Las Vegas, Nevada. February 10-12, 2008.

Presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Broncho-Esophagological Association. Topic:
Detection of pepsin by immunoassay in patients with LPR and GERD
Orlando, Florida. May 2, 2008.

Annual Meeting of the American Broncho-Esophagological Association. Topics:
Panel: Pitfalls and Pearls in Laryngopharyngeal Reflux
Future diagnosis and treatment of LPR
Orlando, Florida. May 2, 2008.

Faculty, New York Rhinology Update. Sponsored by the NYU Post-Graduate Medical School and the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. Panel on Transnasal Esophagoscopy.
Transnasal esophagoscopy (TNE): How, when, and why?
New York, New York. May 16, 2008.

Keynote Commencement Speaker: Resident Research and Alumni Day. Department of Otolaryngology, Albany Medical College. Topics:
Everyone has reflux and it is not normal
Surgery, self-maintenance, shopping, and sex: The view from both sides of the gender divide
Albany, New York. June 14, 2008.

Presidential address: Annual Meeting of the American Broncho-Esophagological Association. Topic:
Specialization: When being the best isn't good enough
Phoenix, Arizona. May 28, 2009.

Panel moderator, Annual Meeting of the American Broncho-Esophagological Association. Topic:
Vocal fold cysts and their sequelae
Phoenix, Arizona. May 28, 2009.

Boston University—Tufts Alumni Day and Strong-Vaughan Symposium. Departments of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery, and Neurological Surgery Boston University School of Medicine, Boston Medical Center. Topic:
Protecting the safety of the patient having an in-office laryngeal laser surgical procedure
Boston, Massachusetts. June 5, 2009.

Keynote speaker and Guest faculty. Update in Rhinology and Laryngology. Nineteenth Annual Alumni Day Symposium, University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, Department of Surgery, Division of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topics:
Laryngopharyngeal reflux (LPR): A religious war
Diagnosis of vocal fold bowing/paresis
West Orange, New Jersey. June 17, 2009.

Guest Speaker, 3rd Phonosurgery & Phonotherapy: State of the Art, sponsored by the Department of Otolaryngology, Mount Sinai School of Medicine. Topics:
Benign lesions (concurrent televised live surgery)
Reflux, dysphagia and inflammatory voice disorders
New York, New York. October 23, 2009.

Guest speaker, Anesthesia Seminar, sponsored by the Department of Anesthesia, New York Eye & Ear Infirmary. Topic:

What the anesthesiologist should know about the larynx and airway
New York, New York. December 16, 2009.

Keynote Speaker Turkish Otolaryngology Society: Uludag ENT Days Scientific Program. Topics:

Laryngopharyngeal reflux and not laryngopharyngeal reflux
What do we know about healthy eating? What you eat may be eating you.
Office-based laryngeal laser surgery: Indications, techniques, and outcomes
Laryngoplastic Phonosurgery: Beyond “thyroplasty”
Bursa, Turkey, March 12, 2010.

Presented at the annual meeting of the American Broncho-Esophagological Association. Topic:

Therapeutic Benefit of Strict Low-Acid Diet on Recalcitrant Laryngopharyngeal Reflux
Las Vegas, NV, April 8, 2010,

Instructional Course at the Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topic:

Laryngopharyngeal Reflux
Boston, MA. September 16, 2010.

Keynote Speaker (William Montgomery Lecturer) and Guest Faculty: Laryngology Disorders Update 2011, sponsored by the Harvard Medical School Department of Continuing Medical Education and the Department of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topics:

William Montgomery Lecture: Office-Based Laryngeal Surgery
Laryngopharyngeal Reflux: What You Don’t Yet Know
Management of the Bowed Vocal fold
Endoscopic Laryngeal Cancer Surgery
Voice Reconstruction after Cancer Surgery
Panels on Difficult Cases
Boston, MA. May 19-20, 2011

Care of the Professional Voice: 40th Annual Symposium. Topic:

Therapeutic Benefits of Low-Acid Diet for Laryngopharyngeal Reflux
Philadelphia, PA. June 5, 2011

Guest of Honor and Keynote Speaker. Frontiers in Otolaryngology 2011, Sponsored by the University of Texas, Department of Otolaryngology. Topics:

America’s Reflux Epidemic: How and Why It Happened
The Past, Present, and Future of Healthcare in America (1900-2100):
Fix Healthcare and Heal the Nation.
Houston TX, June 25, 2011

Instructional Course at the Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. Topic:

Laryngopharyngeal Reflux
San Diego. September 13, 2011.

Keynote Speaker: Canadian Society of Otolaryngology-Head & Neck Surgery. Topics:
Integrated Aerodigestive Medicine: The Future of Otolaryngology?
Interesting Cases: A Baker's Dozen
Banff, Alberta, Canada, June 3-7, 2013.

Care of the Professional Voice: 40th Annual Symposium. Topics:
A New, Inexpensive, and Non-Invasive Saliva Test for Laryngopharyngeal Reflux: Sensitivity and Specificity of a Rapid Pepsin Immunoassay
Philadelphia, PA. May 29, 2014.

Annual Meeting of the American Broncho-Esophagological Association. Topic:
The Nocturnal Findings of Laryngopharyngeal Reflux: RFS Redux
San Diego, California. April 11, 2017.

Keynote Speaker: American Thoracic Society International Conference on Chronic Cough. Topic:
The Chronic Cough Enigma: Reflux-Related and Neurogenic Cough
<https://www.atsjournals.org> > book > ajrccm-conference
Washington, DC. May 19-24, 2017.

Keynote Speaker: VIIth World Voice Consortium. Topics:
Respiratory Reflux, the Vagus & the Voice
Future Health Care: Integrated Aerodigestive Medicine (IAM)
Copenhagen, Denmark December 8-10, 2017.

Keynote Speaker: XII AIST International Cough Conference, "The Thousand Faces of Cough; clinical and therapeutic updates." Topic:
Respiratory Reflux, the Vagus, and Chronic Cough
Bologna, Italy, February 2-3, 2018
